BONFIGLIO is a historic winery located near Bologna with a limited, organic annual output of about 50,000 bottles across five product lines.

For years, we have been pursued low yields and environmentally sustainable viticulture to achieve the highest quality. In 2022 our vineyards obtained the organic certification.

As distinguished interpreter of 'Pignoletto', Bonfiglio crafts exceptional wines from this indigenous wine varietal, vinified in total pureness from Grechetto Gentile grapes. Our range includes DOCG 'sparkling' and 'still' versions, as well as a DOC Passito raisin wine.

Other wines produced by Bonfiglio include 'Rosso Bologna', a refined blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot and 'Baraldesco', our Cabernet Sauvignon Reserve, an elegant, intense and well-balanced red wine.

All good things come in fours.

Four elements, four seasons, four cardinal points, four Beatles.

Four cousins, four generations.

We took over our family winery in the only way we knew how to – with our hearts on our sleeves and our hands ready to get dirty! Our paths follow our broad family trees, where names and stories, passions and wine, have been interwoven through time. These vineyards were our playgrounds as children, and not much has changed since. We experiment, we play, we listen, we collaborate.

We put into practice what we learn. Our mission: to reveal the real Veneto - fearless, wild, and ready to meet the world.

Four cousins, one vision: contemporary wines for Veneto's new age

Borgo Molino is a cellar in the Treviso area founded in 1922 and now managed by two brothers Pietro and Paolo Nardin, the third generation of the Nardin Family.

A company that owns around 250 hectares of vineyards and vinifies 12,000 tonnes of grapes every year.

Our headquarter is in Ormelle (Treviso area) where we have vinification, storage and bottling plant. Then we have an estate of 20 hectares in Col San Martino in the Valdobbiadene area where we harvest and vinificate our Valdobbiadene DOCG and Asolo DOCG Prosecco. In addition we have an estate in Spilimbergo in Friuli where we have our vineyards of Friuli wines.

We produce a complete range of Prosecco (Cartizze, Asolo DOCG, Valdobbiadene DOCG, Treviso DOC) in different sizes and we have still wines as Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Pinot Nero, Pinot Grigio, Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay.

Our winery is the last producer of the sole special variety of Albana with pink grapes. CINQUANTACINQUE ROSA is the unique pink wine coming out from amazing grapes whose scents are unique as its colour. Our family-run winery carries on the wine making knowledge of our ancestors, together with the strong desire to discover or keep on working on the native vines of our beautiful hills, placed between the medieval town of Bologna and the Adriatic Sea. Since 2018, we have received many awards at several competitions such as Decanter UK, International Wine Challenge UK, USA Wine Ratings and more. Cantina Valle Isarco is Italy's northernmost cooperative, with deep roots in the pure Alpine spirit of the Valle Isarco region of Alto Adige. A passion for precision unites 135 families who cultivate 150 hectares of steep mountain vineyards reaching up to 1,000 metres above sea level. It is the altitude and heroic viticulture in this region that give the wines their distinctive freshness and character. By blending deep tradition with modern craftsmanship, Cantina Valle Isarco consistently wins prestigious international awards for the distinctive elegance of its wines. Every bottle tells the story of the valley, where nature, culture, and dedication converge in every drop. Experience the essence of true alpine excellence.

Casa Paladin was founded in 1962 by Valentino Paladin. It all started from Veneto, its region of origin, with Paladin winery, then expanded, accompanied by the third generation, with other Estates: Castello Bonomi in Franciacorta, Bosco del Merlo in Friuli, Castelvecchi in Tuscany and Casa Lupo in Valpolicella.

Casa Paladin promotes sustainability with a 360° approach. The wine quality is strictly connected to the soil and we believe we have a responsibility towards the future.

The vineyard is seen as an ecosystem to be handled in a careful and rational way in order to: preserve the biodiversity of the territory, ensure qualitative productivity, and protect consumers' and the environment's health.

CASALE DEL GIGLIO®

Veduta dell'azienda agricola Casale del Giglio, alle Ferriere

Imported by: Vinissimo Ltd

Casale del Giglio has always been motivated by the desire to produce top quality, fairly-priced wines in a swathe of land, the Agro Pontino, little known until recently for its viticultural potential.

Fascinated by the Agro Pontino, Dino Santarelli founded the company there, in the village of Le Ferriere. This was in 1967 and the beginning of what was to become a far-reaching research and experimentation programme when he was joined by his son Antonio and the talented winemaker, Paolo Tiefenthaler.

The aim of the programme, conducted on 180 acres of vineyard, has been, and still is, twofold: first to favour those cultivars which, by their nature and through targeted management, have proved to interact most successfully with the soil and climate of the territory; second to rediscover and restore the status of native vines once thought to be obsolete, such as Biancolella di Ponza, Bellone di Anzio, Cesanese di Olevano Romano and Pecorino di Accumoli.

Le Carezze Winery, located in Terrazzo, is a family-driven organic winery where tradition meets innovation. With love and care, we cultivate PIWI (resistant) grape varieties, using sustainable practices that protect the land and minimize the use of sulphur and copper. Our vineyards, resting on clay and mineral-rich soils, give each wine a unique character and personality. From sparkling wines to whites, reds, and passito wines, every bottle reflects our dedication, passion, and respect for nature. At Le Carezze, we craft wines that tell a story—one of authenticity, sustainability, and artisanal care—inviting everyone to share in the joy and soul of our wines.

Malenchini

Looking for importer

The Malenchini family has been producing wine and olive oil for nearly two centuries in the historic Villa Medicea di Lilliano, just a few kilometres from Florence, in the beautiful scenery of the Chianti Colli Fiorentini in Tuscany. This splendid 70-hectare organic estate preserves its ancient winemaking cellars and the 1830 oil cellar.

Today, Diletta Malenchini represents the eighth generation at the helm of the company and, for over twenty-five years, has continued the family tradition of creating products characterised by an authentic and distinctive style, respecting the territory and its typical varieties.

The company has been certified organic since 2014. It boasts 18 hectares of vineyards, with selections of native grape varieties such as Sangiovese, Canaiolo, and Pugnitello. These are complemented by international varieties such as Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Petit Verdot, for an annual production of approximately 130,000 bottles. Our wine selection includes a range of Chiantis and IGTs, including a Rosé and a White, and a line of organic extra virgin olive oils.

MANSALTO

Looking for importer

The Mansalto estate extends for 2,000 hectares across the hills of the provinces of Siena and Arezzo, in southwestern Chianti. Our pristine ecosystem of forestlands, olive orchards, vineyards, lakes and streams offers visitors breath-taking views of an unknown corner of Tuscany and enchanting pathways through a natural paradise. Our unusually high vineyards (600m.) allow for slow ripening and late harvesting of our grapes, giving our wines depth and delicacy. Our vineyards grow in small plots surrounded by forest or fields; each parcel has a different soil type, giving the wine made from that vineyard's grapes a distinctive character: fruitier where there is more clay and afternoon sun, more floral in the highest vineyards, more mineral where the soils are lighter and sandier. We aim for a gentle touch in the cellar: high-quality grapes are enough for the wine to essentially make itself; short macerations, limited pumping over and racking, and low impact oak characterize our approach.

Poggio Bonelli and Chigi Saracini is an historical property located in the countryside near the medieval city of Siena. It comprises two distinct wine-growing areas: the Chianti Colli Senesi region, where 70 hectares of vineyards are planted, and the more prestigious Chianti Classico estate, where 18 hectares of Sangiovese grapes are cultivated.

Both areas have belonged over the centuries to several noble families, including the distinguished Chigi Saracini family. Since 1965, the estate has been owned by the world's oldest bank, Monte dei Paschi di Siena.

The winery and all its operations are based in the village of Castelnuovo Berardenga. The agricultural practices at Poggio Bonelli follow the Agriqualità certification, a form of sustainable agriculture.

Currently, overall production reaches about 240,000 bottles (2024), of which 65% are sold in foreign markets. Seven red wines are produced (two Super Tuscans, two Chianti Classico appellations, two regular Chianti – including a "Chianti Colli Senesi" – and one entry-level Toscana Rosso). The portfolio is completed by a Vinsanto Occhio di Pernice, a Sangiovese Rosato, and a white wine blend of Chardonnay and Viognier.

Starting from this year, our range is completed with the introduction of the "Chianti Classico Gran Selezione Chigi Saracini", a wine of exceptional quality and prestige that represents the top of our production.

Our 18-hectare Chianti Classico vineyard is divided into 12 parcels, located between 300 and 350 meters above sea level. The soils are mainly alluvial (sand and clay), giving wines with medium tannins and good acidity. The diversity of soil textures among the parcels adds great complexity to the wines, masterfully interpreted by our long-standing consultant, Mr. Carlo Ferrini.

In 2018, Poggio Bonelli became the first Chianti Classico producer in the history of Wine Spectator to receive a 95-point score for an "entry-level" Chianti Classico wine.

The estate also includes 6.100 olive groves that produce excellent organic extra virgin olive oil, as well as a farm holiday property with twelve apartments.

Sacco Vignaioli Apuli is the name we have chosen to identify who we are: winegrowers closely linked to our land of origin. We are at the foot of the Gargano Mountains, on a hilly and windy area, on calcareous soils historically suited to the grape cultivation.

We are an organic farm, created 25 years ago by Vincenzo Sacco, thanks to his dream to give a "wine identity" to his land.

Now the company is run by Vincenzo's sons: Matteo and Alessandro, using modern technologies and following the principles of organic viticulture for an unexpected expression of the north of the Puglia wine production. We produce dry and mineral wines, with long aftertaste, from native grapes Nero di Troia, Bombino Bianco, Falanghina, Primitivo.

We manage over 70 hectares of vineyards located in three of the region's most representative appellations – Friuli Isonzo, Collio and Friuli Colli Orientali – where native varieties and international grapes express their finest character.

We produce around 500,000 bottles per year, a volume that ensures stable and consistent availability across our range.

Our wines range from fresh, everyday labels to more structured, age-worthy selections.

Our export activity is long-established: we work with partners in more than 25 countries across Europe, North America and Australia, building collaborations based on consistency, reliability and flexibility.

Sustainability is a core part of our approach: all our vineyards and wines are certified under the SQNPI program, ensuring responsible vineyard management and respect for biodiversity.

TENUTA FERRATA

Looking for importer

Tenuta Ferrata estate was founded in the early 1990s, thanks especially to two brothers: the first, Carmelino, who convinced the other three to buy a piece of land he had fallen in love with, located in Castiglione di Sicilia, on Mount Etna. Later, Oreste decided to restore the land to its original vocation—wine production.

The vineyards of Tenuta Ferrata grow on land crossed by the historic Circumetnea railway, from which the estate takes its name. The winery is located in the heart of the Etna DOC area, in Rovittello, at an altitude of 650 meters above sea level. It extends over a surface area of 90 hectares, of which 22 are currently planted with Nerello Mascalese, Carricante, and Catarratto vines.

The estate benefits from a breathtaking, protected, and preserved environment, and its white, red, and rosé wines tell the story of this land from the very first sip. The terroir is characterized by sandy and fertile soils, as well as significant temperature variations between day and night. These conditions, combined with careful and passionate vine cultivation, give the wines their strong personality and balance.

A small legacy in the shadow of a 15th- century Pallavicina tower. The need to slow down time by tuning it to the rules and rhythms of nature. The love of culture and the craftsmanship and artistry of the men and women of Emilia, who have always been the custodians of the uniqueness of the territory and the enhancement of its fruits. And, above all, the willingness to embrace and cultivate tradition to make it blossom into a vision. Tenute Venturini Foschi - is a young winery with a clear mission: to produce and market quality wines respecting the rules of nature and so for this reason we follow the strict method of organic agriculture. The dream began in 2016 with the planting of the first vineyard named FONIO entirely dedicated to the production of Malvasia di Candia Aromatica, a variety originally from Greece finding perfect conditions in the hills around Parma. In 2018 other vineyards were added such as EMA estate and the large Villa Fontana estate adjacent to the Via Francigena, dotted with centuries-old trees and historic buildings, among which the eighteenth-century Villa Ca' Fontani stands out.

BOLGHERI

Looking for importer

Terre dei Ghelfi is a young organic estate in Bolgheri, Tuscany, founded in 2021 by Alberto Ghelfi through the acquisition and revitalization of a historic property. The estate extends over seven hectares of vineyards, partly twenty years old and partly newly planted in 2021, and four hectares of olive groves overlooking the hills of Castagneto Carducci and the Tyrrhenian Sea. Rooted in the region's winemaking tradition, Terre dei Ghelfi combines craftsmanship, sustainability and innovation to produce elegant wines that express the coastal character of Bolgheri. Each bottle reflects our commitment to organic farming, respect for nature and the authentic spirit of Tuscany.

Looking for importer

Our Story of Villa Russiz harks back to far 1869 when Count Theodor de la Tour, a visionary winemaker, founded the estate with Elvine Ritter. We have been producing wines for 150 years, with a unique style that is based on a formidable ally: the Collio.

Villa Russiz takes pride in being a non-profit organization with a winery, producing exceptional wines that have earned recognition in over 20 markets and received prestigious awards. We are on a mission to amplify our story, and what sets us apart is our commitment to a noble cause: all proceeds from our sales directly support a fostering home, providing a nurturing environment for 16 minors. Choosing Villa Russiz wines creates a meaningful connection between the enjoyment of exceptional wines and the support of vulnerable children.

HADRIANUM

Looking for importer

Founded in 2018, Vinum Hadrianum is more than a winery—it's a revival of an ancient legacy inspired by the winemaking tradition of Hadria, now Atri in Abruzzo. The wine from this land was called Vinum Hadrianum, from which our winery takes its name, and it was considered one of the finest in the Roman Empire. We produce wines with indigenous grapes, our harvest is manual and we grow our vines as organic. We are able to offer red, pink, orange and white wines, some of them aged in handmade clay amphorae.
